MILE STONES

What an easy thing to write
Just a few lines every night!
Tell about the fun you had,
And how sweetheart made you glad.

Write about the party gay,
In the sail-boat down the bay;
The motor-trip, that perfect dance;
The week-end at the country manse.

Courtship—then the wedding time,
Honeymoon in southern clime;
Home again in circles gay,
Till "Little Stranger" came your way.

So day by day the story grows,
As onward your life-journey goes.
Lights and shadows—memories dear,
These are MILE STONES of your career.

Poultry Ration

I am starting in the poultry business and so far have lost some chickens from leg weakness. I am feeding oatmeal and corn. Please advise a good balanced ration for egg production that I can mix myself. What can I do for my lame chickens? E. K., Indiana.

Here is a ration that is good: 100 pounds of wheat bran, 100 pounds of middlings, 100 pounds of corn meal, and 100 pounds of meat scraps. Add 15 pounds of bone meal and 4 pints of cod-liver oil to this amount for a while until you get your birds over this trouble. You may reduce the meat scraps to 75 pounds if you feed the mash heavily.

You should feed a grain mixture night and morning made of equal parts of shelled corn, wheat and heavy oats. About 12 pounds for each 100 hens per day is the proper amount.

RECEIVER OF CORN

To a Fellow Member,
 Indiana Farm Bureau:

Dear Sir:—Please accept my thanks for the bushel of seed corn.
